Sprint 1
Meeting 2

After facing some problems related to Python we arrived at the conclusion that developing it on Java would be easier and create a better product overall.

At the end we did as planned in terms of who does what, we've also shared our progress about each part and commented some of the issues we had.